

ICSO

International Container Security Organisation

Biography: Mr. Stefaan Vermeire, Director General of ICSO

Stefaan Vermeire has over ten years' technical-commercial management experience in civil, maritime and ports, electrical & ICT engineering. Most recently he has been the ICT project manager for a range of national and international public transport projects.

His wide-ranging experiences in engineering were central to the work he undertook on a Military Supervisory Control & Data Acquisition (SCAD) and remote technical support & management systems, which importantly included reviewing different technical approaches for track & trace technologies.

Until recently Mr. Vermeire was active in project managing an international logistics reorganisation of an imports/exports company where he focussed on automating the full logistical supply chain. His expertise is in government projects & relations management related to telecommunications and information exchange projects.